A high energy Lighting Representative with a contemporary culture and great vibe is seeking a Lighting and Controls Project Manager in the Seattle market. The successful candidate is professional, detail oriented, organized and a team player. Project management and industry experience are two big pluses, but your ability to learn and grow are important too. If you've got the desire to be part of a growing team we want to hear from you.

Internally our project managers work closely with our sales and quotes teams to ensure a clear understanding of the scope of the project. Externally our project managers work to keep our customers educated, informed, and confident that their projects are moving forward as smoothly as possible. Communication skills are a MUST for this position. You will need to be able to call meetings with the pertinent parties, and run effective and efficient meetings to ensure all parties involved are clear on every aspect of the job. Once a project is handed to you – you own it from order entry, reading and understanding drawings, submittals, maintaining and managing shipping schedules, all the way to significant completion of the job.

The position requires strong documentation and communication skills. You need to be comfortable operating in Outlook, Word and Excel and have strong math skills.

Zuli has a “vibe” that is all about taking care of each other and building on each other’s successes. Ideally, you're based in the Seattle Metro Area now. Relocation is a possibility for the right candidate.

Our current associates are respected and they know it. If you want a career, not a job, send us your resume.
